Contents
133 cards
2 sand timers
Overview
It is a game of fast visual reflexes. The aim is to spot and collect 2 identical patterns. Take Three! is a game of fast visual reflexes.

How to Play
The player wearing the most colors begins and plays first. When a player has won 5 sets of cards, the other players return their cards and do not move them. The winning player then places the other cards in the center of the playing area.

At any time, as soon as anyone spots 2 identical patterns, they must quickly put a hand (or the top card of their pile) on one card and play the pair (use both hands!)

If you grab a match, take both cards and stack them (matching pattern side up) next to you to show everyone! Then reveal the top card from your pile and play the pair (use both hands!)

If both players put one hand on one of the cards in a pair, then they must turn the pair over at the same time.

- If a card is on a player’s pile, it is turned over.
- If a player is the first to put a hand on a previously won pair, or the top card of the playing area, he wins the pair.
- If the tie includes a previously won pair, or the top card of the playing area, the player who has just won takes 3 cards.

Mistakes
If you put your hand on 2 cards that do not make a pair, you lose because you played a pair that you have already won. Put it at the bottom of your pile and restart the game.

Ending the Game
When a player wins a pair that includes the top card, all cards on the player’s pile are turned over. The winner can make pairs with them and can therefore free them from their “forbidden” patterns.

When looking for matches, all visible cards appear at the same time, the player who has the best hand wins the pair. When games are played consecutively, more cards are turned over at the end of the first game, and one hand on the other one to win the pair.

Keep track of your points. When the time is up, count the number of valid pairs and triples you collected. The winner is the player with the most points. However, you cannot steal your opponent’s sets.

TEAM MODE
(4 to 6 players)

Certain patterns appear 3 times in the deck. If you spot a pattern that appears for a third time, put one hand on a previously won (or new) pair and play the top card of the playing area. Then, turn the pair over at the same time.

Check the sheet on the right to see how you did.

When looking for matches, all visible cards appear at the same time, the player who has the best hand wins the pair. When games are played consecutively, more cards are turned over at the end of the first game, and one hand on the other one to win the pair.

Keep track of your points. When the time is up, count the number of valid pairs and triples you collected. The winner is the player with the most points. However, you cannot steal your opponent’s sets.

TEAM MODE
(4 to 6 players)

Certain patterns appear 3 times in the deck. If you spot a pattern that appears for a third time, put one hand on a previously won (or new) pair and play the top card of the playing area. Then, turn the pair over at the same time.

Check the sheet on the right to see how you did.

When looking for matches, all visible cards appear at the same time, the player who has the best hand wins the pair. When games are played consecutively, more cards are turned over at the end of the first game, and one hand on the other one to win the pair.

Keep track of your points. When the time is up, count the number of valid pairs and triples you collected. The winner is the player with the most points. However, you cannot steal your opponent’s sets.

TEAM MODE
(4 to 6 players)

Certain patterns appear 3 times in the deck. If you spot a pattern that appears for a third time, put one hand on a previously won (or new) pair and play the top card of the playing area. Then, turn the pair over at the same time.

Check the sheet on the right to see how you did.

When looking for matches, all visible cards appear at the same time, the player who has the best hand wins the pair. When games are played consecutively, more cards are turned over at the end of the first game, and one hand on the other one to win the pair.

Keep track of your points. When the time is up, count the number of valid pairs and triples you collected. The winner is the player with the most points. However, you cannot steal your opponent’s sets.

TEAM MODE
(4 to 6 players)

Certain patterns appear 3 times in the deck. If you spot a pattern that appears for a third time, put one hand on a previously won (or new) pair and play the top card of the playing area. Then, turn the pair over at the same time.

Check the sheet on the right to see how you did.

When looking for matches, all visible cards appear at the same time, the player who has the best hand wins the pair. When games are played consecutively, more cards are turned over at the end of the first game, and one hand on the other one to win the pair.

Keep track of your points. When the time is up, count the number of valid pairs and triples you collected. The winner is the player with the most points. However, you cannot steal your opponent’s sets.

TEAM MODE
(4 to 6 players)

Certain patterns appear 3 times in the deck. If you spot a pattern that appears for a third time, put one hand on a previously won (or new) pair and play the top card of the playing area. Then, turn the pair over at the same time.

Check the sheet on the right to see how you did.